AquaVista 100 selected as a Winner of Pet Product News International's 2007 Editor's Choice Award

June 5, 2007 - Menlo Park, CA – AquaVista Enterprise, Inc. is pleased to announce that its new AquaVista 100 table-top aquarium has received the 2007 Editor's Choice Award from Pet Product News International. The Editorial team reviewed and tested hundreds of products this year and selected the AquaVista 100 as one of the winners of the Editor's Choice awards. The award is given annually to products based on their innovation, practicality, and design.

"We are honored to receive such a prestigious award. Aquavista is creating a new category that combines home decor and aquatics ~ living art ~ making fish keeping simple and decorative," said Scott Yen, President of Aquavista Enterprise Inc. "The Aquavista 100 is perfect for design-conscious people who love fish but do not have the time nor space to maintain an aquarium."

Recently, the AquaVista 100 has been featured in Fox Network News and Good Morning Arizona, and was named one of 2007's Design Defined Product Design Honorees at the International Home & Housewares (IHA) Show. On July 8, 2007, Aquavista will be seen on HGTV in its IHA special on the coolest new products from the show.

For more information or to purchase the AquaVista 500, please visit the website www.aquavistainc.com or call 888-627-8284.
